

INFORMATION AND POWER IN HISTORY

International Conference Amsterdam
16-17 March 2017

Ann Stoler is Willy Brandt Distinguished Professor of Anthropology and History at The New School for Social Research, and she is the director of the Institute for Critical Social Inquiry. She has worked for some thirty years on the politics of knowledge, colonial governance, racial epistemologies, the sexual politics of empire, and ethnography of the archives. Her new book, Duress: Imperial Durabilities in Our Times that just came out (Duke University Press, 2016), was recently published.
